

Sentence Sermons #4

Many want to serve God, but only as advisors.

A wayward child is sometimes straightened out by being bent over.

Kind words help brighten the day for those who hear them--and those who speak them.

It is easier to preach ten sermons than it is to live one.

A lot of church members who are singing “Standing on the Promises” are just sitting on the premises.

You can tell how big a person is by what it takes to discourage him.

Where you go hereafter depends on what you go after here.

An amazing amount of our thinking is done backwards. We first decide what we want to believe and then find good reasons for believing it.

A problem not worth praying about is not worth worrying about.

The time to teach respect for authority is the play pen; not the state pen!

